Vigilance Section
Room No.231 'C', Shastri Bhawan,
New Delhi, dated the 14th March, 2016.

Subject: Compliance with the advice of the Central Vigilance Commission regarding.

Instances have come to the notice of Vigilance Wing about non-observance of the advice of the Central Vigilance Commission. There have been some cases where the follow up action on the first stage advice of the Commission is not taken or is delayed considerably. There are some cases where the authorities have deviated from the advice of the Commission as a matter of course. This is not a healthy practice. The Ministry cannot expect to be a silent spectator to the consultation process of the Commission being scuttled by the various authorities. Not only the Commission, the Ministry is also likely to take a serious view of the actions on the part of the authorities wherever these are in contravention of the advice of the Commission. The advice of the Commission needs to be respected unless or until, there are very sound and rational grounds to deviate from the same in which case, the matter may be referred to the Commission for reconsideration. However, once the Commission after due consideration tenders an advice, the authorities are expected to act in consonance with the said advice.

2. All the Bureau Heads are, therefore, requested to bring the above observations to the notice of Heads of all institutions/organizations under their administrative control and impress upon them to comply with the advice of Central Vigilance Commission.
